VETO BILL BRINGS ABOUT A CHANGE

Will Overturn Asquith's Revolution and Restore the Old Conditions.

SITUATION IN PARLIAMENT

The House of Commons Practically in Control, as Result of Passage of Measure—People See Glimpse of Light.

London, July 21.—The constitutional revolution tonight appears to be an accomplished fact. Great Britain in the future will be governed practically by the House of Commons, with its hereditary upper house possessing only a veto with a time limit of two years. The people find their one gleam of hope in the prediction that the next conservative government will overturn Asquith's revolution and restore the old conditions, but the radicals are confident that in such matters the hands of the clock will never turn back.

Yesterday the future career of the veto bill was apparent to all politicians, and its eventual acceptance by the House of Lords not doubted.

Premier Asquith dispelled all clouds today by communicating informally to Mr. Balfour, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, the substance of an announcement which he will make in that House on Monday. His letter, which Mr. Balfour communicated to the meeting of the Lords this afternoon, follows:

"I think it is courteous and right, before any public decisions are announced, to let you know how we regard the present situation. When the Parliament bill in the form which it has now assumed returns to the House of Commons, we shall be compelled to ask that House to disagree with the Lords' amendments. In the circumstances, should the necessity arise, the government will advise the King to exercise his prerogative to secure the passage into law of the bill in substantially the same form in which it left the House of Commons, and his Majesty has been pleased to signify that he will consider it his duty to accept and act on that advice."

This was a day of caucuses. Three meetings were held to discuss the situation. The cabinet sat for two hours and later the conservative leaders of both Houses met at Mr. Balfour's residence.

The last and most impressive gathering was at Lansdowne house, where more than two hundred peers listened to the reading of the prime minister's letter and practically decided that they must accept the inevitable. Later a statement was given out that the peers reserved decision as to their course until Premier Asquith's announcement of the policy of the government on Monday.

Premier Asquith's letter gives ground for the belief that the government will accept some minor modifications of its bill.

After the cabinet council, Premier Asquith wrote a second letter to Lord Lansdowne, asking for assurance that the House of Lords will pass the veto bill in its original form. It is understood Lansdowne, while himself willing to counsel the absence of the Unionist peers from the final stages of the bill, was unable to give the required assurance.

This shows that the rebel peers are still unsubdued, and that it may yet be necessary to create a batch of peers to overcome their resistance.

TALKS OF ARBITRATION PLAN

England's View of Peace Negotiations With United States—Says Great Britain Must Maintain Her Prestige.

London, July 21.—Addressing a banquet given by the bankers of London tonight, David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, referred to Great Britain's continually growing prosperity, which he said, could only be arrested by a disturbance of the world's peace. "Therefore, he was ready to make a great sacrifice to preserve peace and would rejoice at the success of the arbitration negotiations with the United States, but, he added, it was essential that Great Britain, at all hazards, should maintain her place and prestige among the great powers.

If a situation were forced upon Great Britain where peace could only be preserved by the surrender of the position, she had won by centuries of heroism and achievement by allowing herself to be treated where vital interests were concerned as though she were on no account in the cabinet of nations, then, he said, emphatically, peace at that price would be a humiliation intolerable for a great country like England to endure.

"National honor," said the chancellor, "is no party question. The security of our international trade is not a party question. The peace of the world is more likely to be secured if all nations realize fairly what the conditions of peace must be.

The speech made a deep impression on his listeners. His audience interpreted the speech to mean that the Moroccan situation is serious enough to have the cabinet to depute the chancellor to take this opportunity of affirming the British standpoint.

CAMP AT MOREHEAD.

Many Improvements on Grounds—Granolithic Walks.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—In connection with the encampments of the regiments of the North Carolina National Guard at Camp Glenn, Morehead, now in progress, the improvements in the camp ground are eliciting compliments on every hand and the gratifying prediction is made that within a year or two North Carolina will have one of the very best equipped camp grounds that can be found in this section of the country. Among the improvements that are being used for the first time this season are two granolithic walks from the railroad station through the camp ground and a number of macadamized roads, this being a part of a definite scheme for providing macadamized streets and ways for all the companies. Then there is a new concrete building and refrigerator, new mess hall for the hospital corps, new battalion mess hall, and new brigade mess hall. Furthermore, all the old buildings have been repainted and there will be soon a new reviewing stand completely new. Also an ordinance building has just been completed on the rifle range. The boring of an artesian well has reached 204 feet and will be carried down until there is an overflow that will meet all requirements and supply storage that will meet all emergency. Then the power plant now being used for boring the well will be utilized for generating electric current for lights.

Good progress is being made in the normal for farmers' institute workers in three days' session here. The best methods of teaching in institutes, the culture of cotton, corn and fruits, vegetables and tobacco all came up for consideration today and tonight, and the workers for the ladies' institutes was considered profitably in a separate session for the workers in women's institutes.

CAPT. J. B. SIMPSON DEAD.

One of Clarkton's Oldest Citizens Passes Away.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., July 11.—One of the oldest citizens of Clarkton passed away when Captain James Bradley Simpson died at 6 o'clock today. He was 82 years of age and up to a week ago led an active life for one of his advanced years. In many respects he was a remarkable man, one of his striking characteristics being his jovial disposition.

During the war he served his country as captain of the home guards. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, his membership covering a period of about 60 years.

Fifty-six years ago he married Miss Katherine Hawes, who survives him. He is also survived by six children—Mrs. A. S. McKay, of Bladen Springs; Mrs. Geo. H. Cromartie, Miss Lila, Miss Winnie and Mr. John Simpson, of this place, and Henry Simpson, of Montgomery county, Ga.

The funeral will be held here tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and his remains will be laid to rest beside those of his son, Mr. Ed. Simpson, who was buried here about four years ago.

TRUNK SMUGGLING GAME.

New York Millinery Dealer Arrested on Charge—Three Others.

New York, July 21.—Following an investigation by the Federal grand jury of the so-called "sleeper trunk smuggling conspiracy," Abraham Lichtenstein, treasurer of a millinery firm, was arrested today on a charge of defrauding the government of duties upon merchandise imported into this country from France. He was released under $15,000 bail for examination on July 31st. Three other members of the firm, including William Dreier, are named in the complaint.

RECIPROCITY BILL LIKELY WILL WIN

Senate Leaders Predict Passage of Canadian Agreement in Senate.

BITTER FIGHT ENDS TODAY

Debate on the Measure Finished Yesterday—Bristow Amendments Introduced Yesterday Were Defeated.

Washington, July 21.—The most bitter fight for legislation waged by any administration in many years will come to a close tomorrow when the Canadian reciprocity bill, an issue before two sessions of Congress, will be passed by the Senate by a decisive vote.

That at least 60 Senators out of a total membership of 91 will vote in favor of the measure, was predicted tonight by Senators of both political parties. This vote will include all but four or five of the Democrats, and will include also a great proportion of the so-called "stalwart" Republicans. Opposed to the bill will be a majority of the Republicans, insurgents, who come from the Northwestern States, a few of the Republican regulars and a handful of Democrats.

For a time today the Senate leaders hoped they might get the bill to the President before he leaves for Beverly tomorrow, but a visit by Senators Penrose and Crane to Speaker Clark of the House, soon dispelled this expectation, as the Speaker explained it would be impossible to hold the House on the session long enough to receive the measure. As the House will adjourn from tomorrow till next Wednesday the bill cannot be received until the latter date.

The measure has not been and undoubtedly will not be changed in any respect by the Senate, and when it is signed by the President and the Vice President it will be dispatched to the President.

Senator LaFollette featured in last speech-making today with a vigorous arraignment of President Taft and the bill. He attacked the Democrats of the Senate on the ground that they were deliberately trying to carry the tariff issue over to the next campaign for political purposes and pointed out that the Democrats had consistently voted down amendments proposing general tariff reductions. Their excuse, he said, had been that two Presidents would not sign the reciprocity bill if it was encumbered with any general tariff amendments.

Several amendments to the reciprocity bill were defeated, including those by Mr. Bristow, to reduce duties on lead bullion, and lead paints and similar lead products and by Mr. Townsend for an alliance with Canada to enlarge the St. Lawrence waterway.

There are 25 amendments to the measure to be acted upon before the final vote on the passage of the bill. Many of these propose to fix general tariff changes to the agreement. President Taft has insisted that any changes of this character threaten the defeat of the entire reciprocity agreement with Canada.

Party lines have disappeared during the consideration of the bill. Tariff affiliation, to outward appearances, have been completely changed. President Taft has had the general support of the Democrats and of the Republican regulars, and in this union of forces he has had enough support so that the bill has never been in danger of defeat of serious amendments since the session began.

VISIBLE SUPPLY OF COTTON

Hester's Statement Shows 1,958,768 Bales—Staple Up-to-Date.

New Orleans, July 21.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton issued today shows the total visible is 1,958,768 against 2,087,294 last week, 1,966,000 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 1,094,768, against 1,123,294 last week, 1,097,710 last year, and of all other kinds including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 954,000 against 974,000 last week, 929,000 last year. Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now float and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,126,000 against 1,100,000 last year, in Egypt 79,000 against 62,000 last year; in India 519,000 against 59,000 last year and in the United States 244,000 against 315,000 last year.

TO PROBE MILK AND ICE TRUSTS.

Inquiry as to Alleged Collusion is Begun in Washington.

Washington, July 21.—Investigations which may become general, into the alleged combination of milk dealers to control the price of that product and of alleged collusion between them and ice companies, have been instituted in Washington.

At the Department of Justice tonight it was stated that the investigation at this time did not extend to New York. That they may do so in the near future is possible. Two agents of the department are at work in Washington.

The department is believed to have its eyes upon the ice situation in New York, with a view to looking into methods and conditions in that city.

PENROSE TELLS ABOUT HINES

Pennsylvania Senator Brings Joy to Hines-Lorimer Followers—He Declares He Favored Election—Features.

Washington, July 21.—Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, today brought joy to the Lorimer-Hines followers when he told the Senate Lorimer Committee of the part he took in the election of Senator Lorimer. They claimed that he substantiated the testimony given by Edward Hines as to Senator Penrose's desire to have Mr. Hines exert his influence for Lorimer's election.

BROTHER ALSO IN CUSTODY

Starting Evidence at Coroner's Inquest—Paul Beattie Confessed Buying Gun That Killed Brother's Wife.

Richmond, Va., July 21.—The missing link in the chain of evidence which the detectives have been forging in the case of the murder of Mrs. Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., who was slain Tuesday night, five miles south of Richmond, on the Midlothian turnpike, while automobiling with her husband, was supplied this afternoon when Paul Beattie, a cousin of Henry Beattie's, made formal confession to the police that he bought for Henry and delivered to him last Tuesday the gun with which Mrs. Beattie was killed.

Thereupon, both Henry and Paul Beattie were arrested and the former was brought to Richmond city jail, where he is in confinement tonight. Paul fell in a dead faint on being told that he was under arrest and later writhed in convulsions. He was so violent that he had to be handcuffed and thus manacled he was taken to the city home for medical treatment. He remains there tonight and is reported much better after first shock of his collapse.

The inquest proceeded today as per adjournment, at the home of Coroner Loving, in Chesterfield county. At 7 o'clock this evening a further adjournment was had until twelve thirty o'clock tomorrow.

Henry Beattie, Jr., was the first witness heard today. The commonwealth's line of questioning indicated its belief that his wife was killed by the road, where the large bloodstain was found, the automobile's drip pan having caught hemorrhage after the body was placed in the car.

Inquiry for the clothing worn by Mrs. Beattie brought out the fact that her clothing had been burned by her family, who, it was explained, wished to destroy that gruesome reminder of the tragedy.

Beattie was on the stand over two hours and in spite of all tests, such as the reconstruction of the scene at the moment of the crime, stuck to his original account of the tragedy.

On being arrested he remained perfectly cool, affording thus a striking contrast to his cousin.

He exhibited neither surprise nor emotion. His only request was that he be given a newspaper. This was handed to him and he read it apparently with deep interest for several minutes. Then he threw it to the floor, lit a cigarette and looked dreamily into space.

"Woman in the Case."

The second of the two chief witnesses at the inquest today was Beulah Blinford, the "woman in the case," who told the story of a former intimacy with Henry Beattie, Jr., of the birth and death of a child of which Beattie was the father, and of the redemption of the irregular association referred to after Mrs. Beattie discovered that she was to become a mother, and frequently of late, including last Monday night, the night before the crime was committed.

Assistant Attorney General George L. Jones, just back from his home at Franklin, Macon county, says that the farmers of that section of the State have scarcely ever had such prospects for a big corn crop as at present. The fields, he says, are that rank and rich in the growth of the corn that they are black. He says that all through that county there are prize acres.

EXCITING WEEK FOR COTTON

Drastic Liquidation on Continued Favorable Crop Accounts Feature—Short Interests Have Greatly Diminished.

New York, July 21.—Cotton has been decidedly lower on continued favorable crop accounts, expectations of a very early movement of new cotton to market and persistent long liquidation of both new and old positions by bull operators. The weekly government report was of a generally favorable character reporting rains quite general in the American cotton producing region.

ADDRESSES BLUE AND GRAY

Forded Streams on Country Roads With Great Difficulty—Major Archie Butte the Hero—Made Plea for Peace.

Manassas, Va., July 21.—Mud bespattered after a strenuous trip from Washington by automobile, President Taft today faced an audience made up in part of veterans who wore the blue and the gray, within a few miles of the scene of the first great conflict of the Civil War, and was applauded and cheered when he made a plea for international peace.

The President declared that a general arbitration treaty both with Great Britain and with France probably would be signed within the next ten days. He added that he hoped within the next few days to announce that three other great powers would enter into similar agreement with the United States. Mr. Taft did not go so far as to indicate the nations that he had in mind, but it was generally believed that he referred to Germany, Italy and the Netherlands. Japan ultimately may come into the great peace pact, but the negotiations with that empire as yet are said to be merely tentative.

President Taft reached Manassas late this evening after a tempestuous trip from Washington by automobile. He laughingly likened his troubles in getting to Bull Run to those that some folks who were there 50 years ago had in getting away.

The President's trip from Washington to Manassas would have thrilled the heart of a moving picture man. He let a trail of stranded automobiles in his wake, made perilous voyages across swollen streams, stopped on his way to rescue a party of stranded senators—demanding votes for reelection a reward—plowed his way through rain storms and mud and finally wheeled into this historic little village at sundown.

The car containing the secret service men which started bravely before the President as he left the White House, gamely held to the race until within a few miles of the battlefield and then gave a despairing gasp and stopped in the middle of what once upon a time was a peaceful brook, but which had become today a muddy torrent. This stream had daunted the courage of the President's chauffeur who up to this time had successfully navigated three other fords.

So the secret service car was sent ahead to depths of the water and died in the attempt to make the crossing. By a detour the President managed to negotiate the stream at a more shallow point.

Several of the rescued Senators stowed away with the secret service men after their shipwreck at an earlier ford were this time left stranded with the declaration by the President that they were a lot of stowaways. One of the White House stenographers who had followed the President from coast to coast and from Puget Sound to the Gulf of Mexico, likewise was abandoned in midstream, and Mr. Taft spoke without any official record being made of his utterances for the first time since he became the chief magistrate of the nation.

When the Presidential party started from Washington to attend the culminating exercises of the Manassas semi-centennial reunion and leave feast of the men who opposed each other in the War Between the States, the sun was shining brightly. Before the deluge came he had time to stop at Fairfax court house, take a look at George Washington's last will and testament, and get a bit of luncheon. It was not a big storm that hit Fairfax court house, but when the President's automobile left there for the battlefield it ran into trouble.

Five miles out of that village the car mounted a hill, dipped down into a valley and there before the President's eyes was a big towering wall a derelict in the middle of a stream that in ordinary days is two feet wide, but today had stretched into a hundred feet of yellow swirling water. Seated in it calmly waiting their fate were three United States senators, Nelson, of Minnesota; Bacon, of Georgia, and Overman, of North Carolina. Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, the car's owner, had abandoned his friends in mid-stream, or had gone ahead to secure the services of a horse or two to pull them out.

Major A. W. Butt, the President's personal aide, took one look at the stream, one look at the President and one look at his shining yellow boots. In a minute the boots were off and the major was in the torrent up to his waist. He waded across and back again.

"We can get across," said he as he came back to the waiting White House car bedragged but happy.

"Thank you, Major," the President said, "get in and we will try it."

The chauffeur slid the gears, the machine leaped forward and a minute later was up to the hub in the yellow mud. As he passed Senator Brandegee's machine the President gravely saluted.

"How do you do, Senators," said he. "The two machines that had started (Continued on Page Eight.)"

EDITOR GONZALES INJURED.

Hurt in Automobile Wreck While En Route to Asheville.

Columbia, S. C., July 21.—Captain William E. Gonzales, editor of the State, who left here this morning in his automobile, en route to Asheville, to join Mrs. Gonzales and their son, Robert, was injured at Fountain Inn, when his machine was wrecked.

It is said here that the car was ditched by a wire stretched across the road. This has not been confirmed, however.

Captain Gonzales was taken to a hospital in Greenville. His injuries are not dangerous.

Captain Gonzales left here in his touring car early this morning for Asheville, to join his family there. Fountain Inn, near where the accident occurred, is a town about 15 miles south of Greenville, very near the line between Greenville and Laurens counties. Telephone messages from Greenville indicated that passengers or the train from Laurens to Greenville, who brought to Greenville the news of the accident, considered that it was serious. The party had not reached Greenville at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

HAYSTACK SAVES AVIATOR.
Unhurt After 60-Foot Drop, But Machine Is Wrecked.

Chicago, July 20.—A haystack saved the life of Harry Gowing, an amateur aviator, today.

While banking for a short turn in an open field, the aeroplane turned turtle and dropped 60 feet to the ground. As the machine was turning over, Gowing made a desperate leap and alighted on the haystack. He was not even bruised, but his machine was wrecked.

GAMES IN THE CITY LEAGUE

Interesting and Close Games Expected
The 12th scheduled double-header in the City League will be played this afternoon, the line-ups as announced by the managers of the teams forecasting two excellent games.

In the first game the W. L. I. will make an effort to again get a little higher foothold on the percentage ladder, taking as their victims to work on the strong Boys' Brigade team. The Brigade team has been the surprise of the fans, forging to the front as one of the best teams in the city, from a beginning that promised nothing in particular. Quinney for the Brigades and Whitehead for the Soldiers, will be the opposing artists, and with the usual good field support it is likely that this will be a batfist between the two star twirlers. The line-up:

W. L. I.—McClellan, c; Whitehead, p; Orrell, 1b; Smith, 2b; Shaw, 3b; Schuiken, ss; Calder, rf; Gore, cf; Grainger, rf.

Boys' Brigade.—Watson, c; Quinney, p; Burnett, 1b; Gore, 2b; Lacy, 3b; Montgomery, ss; Davis, rf; Smith, cf; Mintz, rf.

For the second game the Y. M. C. A. with a genuine case of the "big head," well developed from last week's run, will proceed to attempt to attempt the same with the Railroaders, with very good chances of making good.

The line-up, who was on the mound for the Triangle Boys last Saturday will again do the twirling act, while either Green or LeMoine, both top liners, will be on the mound for the Coast Line. The line-up will probably be as follows:

Y. M. C. A.—Starratt, c; Green or LeMoine, p; Terry, 1b; Emerson, 2b; Houston, 3b; Taylor, ss; Grainger, cf; Hines, rf; Wright, rf.

Y. M. C. A.—Vessell, c; Hines, p; McCravy, 1b; Carraway, 2b; Bell, 3b; Jones, ss; Bergen, cf; Trust, rf; Brittain, rf.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 21.—Zombrower, the first 2:05 pacer, had no difficulty in winning the $5,000 Bekman Hotel stake for 2:10 class pacers, the feature of today's grand circuit card.

UNDERGROUND THOROUGHFARES

Gigantic System in New York —

New York, July 21.—Within ten days thousands of men probably will begin their long task of burrowing under the city in the making of the most elaborate system of underground thoroughfares in the world. So announced Chairman Wilcox, of the Public Service Commission, at a press conference, the contractor at the conclusion of today's meeting of the Board of Estimate when the entire new system involving the expenditure of approximately $225,000,000 was awarded to Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

Four or five construction contracts were signed and bonds approved to-night and the only formality now barring actual work is the procuring of a permit.

Under the contracts awarded today the city will contribute $123,000 for the new lines and allow $27,800,000 for subway routes it has now under construction, making the total expenditure by the taxpayers $150,000,000. The railway company will supply the remaining $75,000,000. The proposed new routes will embrace the boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens and the Bronx, and give rapid transit to many sections which have had to depend on the slower trolley.

THREE GIRLS DROWN
Fatal Result of Wading Party in a Michigan Lake.

Dowagiac, Mich., July 21.—Three young women, daughters of prominent families of this place, were drowned tonight in Dewey Lake, nine miles northeast of here. The dead are: Miss Helen Wooster, aged 17; Miss Gladys Gould, aged 17; Miss Lois Gould, aged 15.

The girls, while wading in the lake suddenly stepped into a deep hole and sank before assistance could reach them. Their bodies, arms entwined, were recovered in a few minutes but in spite of heroic efforts of five physicians, none could be resuscitated.

A fourth girl, Miss Vina Bosque, was rescued but is in a serious condition.

London, July 21.—London today sweltered in the hottest weather in years, the temperature reaching 88 degrees in the shade. The hot spell has now been unbroken for two weeks and London is threatened with an ice famine.

KILL MORE THAN WILD BEASTS.
The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back, if not satisfied. Only 50c. at R. R. Bellamy's.

WILKESHAM ON TRUSTS.
Speaks in Michigan and Tells of Work of His Office.

Hancock, Mich., July 21.—Big combinations like the Standard Oil Company and the Tobacco "trust" are going to be "split up into a number of separate and distinct parts," without connection or monopoly power. This was the prediction made in an address here today by Attorney General Wilkesham, answering "People are saying the decisions of the Supreme Court don't really mean anything."

"Don't believe any such talk," declared the attorney general to the crowd assembled here for Hancock's "Homecoming" celebration.

"Criticism seeking to minimize the value of the Supreme Court decisions come largely," he added, "from those who would like to embarrass the administration without the sort of 'general assault on all business which would compel every business man to turn to the other party for relief."

Mr. Wilkesham then gave an account of the activities of the "People's Law Office"—the Department of Justice.

"First of all," he said, "there are great trust cases, in which you, in common with the whole country, have been so much interested. The government scored a great victory in the watchword, but it seems that Wilmington is not yet ready to progress and there has been a strenuous reaction culminating in a petition for the recall of the mayor and the entire administration."

How did the commission offend? Why, it had the effrontery, the audacity, to pass an ordinance prohibiting the raising of dirty, sloppy hogs in the city limits. It decreed that cows must not be kept in the city limit. Under the stress of an epidemic of typhoid fever, it employed a real live, aggressive, vigilant and unusual capable physician as the head of its health department regardless of the fact that it might have known that that doctor would have no more sense than to take the commission and the city code seriously and merely for the sake of saving a few paltry lives from typhoid fever, attempt to clean up the city and make it sanitary and safe to live in.

Only 35 per cent. of the voters of the city are required to sign the petition for an election on the recall of the administration and it appears that the required number will sign. There are on that petition no doubt the names of some of Wilmington's most honest men—it could not be otherwise with such many names on it. But it is understood and in all probability it is true, that the liquor interest of the city are behind the movement, for the new administration actually had the effrontery to enforce the liquor law. And very properly the affronted liquor men decided to be avenged, to punish the commission and the men who were honest enough and patriotic enough and progressive enough to do, or attempt to do, their full duty.

DAMNATION OF WILMINGTON.

Editor of Charlotte Chronicle Has Something to Say Locally.
Charlotte, N. C., July 21.—Editor Wade Harris this afternoon has a significant editorial on the situation in Wilmington. The Charlotte editor says:

The city of Wilmington is the seat of North Carolina. The State recognizes it as such and wishes to see it prosper and grow great. There is an especially kindly feeling between the people of Charlotte and Wilmington. No city in the State is regarded by Charlotte folk with more sincere interest and real affection than is Wilmington. The Chronicle has for years boosted Wilmington and wished for its greater development in size and importance, and Wilmington is making gains right along, but—

Wilmington is laboring under a greater handicap than has ever existed any North Carolina city for a decade or more. Years ago the whole State was handicapped and hampered by the conditions that were brought about through rotten politics and the influence of liquor and liquor men. To Wilmington, large and important as Wilmington has remained in the clutches of the old conditions even to this day and is held back and throttled and stifled by the rottenness of its political life and to a large extent by its civic life until just recently.

In the last election the good people of the city arose in their might and swept the field, electing a mayor and a commission, the city being put under the commission form of government, that was regarded with favor by the progressive and clean voters of the city. Under the commission the city code seriously and merely for the sake of saving a few paltry lives from typhoid fever, attempt to clean up the city and make it sanitary and safe to live in.

Only 35 per cent. of the voters of the city are required to sign the petition for an election on the recall of the administration and it appears that the required number will sign. There are on that petition no doubt the names of some of Wilmington's most honest men—it could not be otherwise with such many names on it. But it is understood and in all probability it is true, that the liquor interest of the city are behind the movement, for the new administration actually had the effrontery to enforce the liquor law. And very properly the affronted liquor men decided to be avenged, to punish the commission and the men who were honest enough and patriotic enough and progressive enough to do, or attempt to do, their full duty.

The liquor interests of Wilmington, which is the only city in the State now that has any organized liquor interest, have been the damnation of the city for years. It now depends upon the people of North Carolina's support, city, whether the place shall still be damned. Nowhere in the State has the prohibition laws been so flagrantly and openly violated as in Wilmington. The recent administration was apparently passive or powerless and did nothing to clean up the town, and meanwhile Wilmington has been winning a reputation for civic righteousness that has undoubtedly caused hundreds of prospective home-seekers to turn elsewhere.

Who is to blame? The liquor interests and the rotten politician. Yes, but not altogether. The responsibility for the condition at Wilmington rests upon the decent people of the city and they have no moral right to shirk it. They have been shirking, but at the last election they carried things their own way. They can continue to do so and if they do not they will of course pay the penalty, and that penalty is heavy. It is to be sincerely, devoutly, hoped that they will not let the city drop back into the old ways and let petty prejudices and dislikes cause them to turn the city over again to its real enemies.

BLACKHAND TRIAL
Sensational Allegations in Suit at Erie, Pa.

Erie, Pa., July 21.—Late today the defense drew aside the curtain in the trial of Gilbert B. Perkins, of Pittsburgh, and Charles Franklin, of Philadelphia, detectives, charged with sending blackhand letters to Charles H. Strong, of this city, and disclosed a line of questioning that was both sensational and remarkable. Blackhand letters recently sent to Judge Criswell, of Venango county; Sheriff Williams, of the same county; and to General Charles Miller, of Franklin, Pa., millionaire oil men, were mentioned by counsel representing the defendants.

A few weeks ago Thomas J. Dempsey, manager of a detective agency at Franklin, Pa., who maintains offices in this city, was arrested charged with sending a blackhand letter to General Miller, demanding $25,000. The alleged evidence against Dempsey, it is said, was secured by Perkins.

DEAD ON TRAIN.
Prominent Winnsboro Business Man Died Very Suddenly.

Winnsboro, N. C., July 21.—L. E. Owens, a prominent business man of Winnsboro, died on board Southern train No. 32 near Orange, Va., at 6:15 this morning. Mr. Owens, accompanied by his brother, A. M. Owens, T. H. Ketchin and his physician, left here last night for Baltimore where at Johns Hopkins hospital the sick man was to be operated on today. The news of his sudden demise was unexpected and shocked the many friends of Mr. Owens, who did not know of his serious illness. The remains will be brought to Winnsboro in the morning. Mr. Owens was generally popular and considered one of the best business men in this county and was interested in many enterprises besides being a successful farmer. The deceased was unmarried and was about 43 years of age.

WOMAN KILLED BY AERO.
Machine in France.

Etampes, France, July 21.—Mme. Denise Moore is the first woman victim of aviation. She was killed at the aerodrome tonight. Mme. Moore had already made several flights and was about to make a high flight. When about 150 feet in the air her biplane was caught by a gust and capsized. It fell straight to the earth and the woman was crushed beneath it.

Mme. Moore was a French woman, although she had an English name. She was about 25 years of age. She had hoped to obtain a pilot's license next week.

Passengers of Steamer Released and Given Clean Bills.
New York, July 21.—One hundred and eighteen first cabin passengers of the steamer Principe di Piemonte, after remaining several days in quarantine, were given clean bills of health, this afternoon, and landed in Jersey City. Steamer passengers and crew, however, will be detained until there is no possibility of their being carriers of Asiatic cholera. Hoffman Island, where are detained several hundred immigrants, also discharged 46 of the passengers and crew of the steamer Moltke.

There has been little within the last 24 hours to change Dr. Doty's optimism regarding the outlook. His bulletin issued tonight says that at Hoffman Island conditions are progressing favorably and at Swinburne Island hospital no deaths have been reported since yesterday.

SNAKE ONLY RESIDENT.
Occupied the Exact Center of Population of United States.

Bloomington, Ind., July 21.—Intangled underbrush on the farm of William L. Mosier, eight miles northeast of this city, the exact center of population of the United States was located late today but the only inhabitant of the immediate neighborhood found was a large rattlesnake which slid out of the bushes and was killed by one of the party of Prof. W. A. Cogshall, of Indiana University, who discovered the spot. It will be marked by a tablet. Prof. Cogshall located the "hub of the country" by finding the longitude by observation of the stars last night and the latitude by the sun today.

DUEL IN FRANCE.
Playwright and Editor Fight With Pistols, Then Swords.

Paris, July 21.—The playwright Henry Bernier, who has won a great number of duels to his record, added still another to the list today when he fought Leon Jaudet, editor of L'Action Francaise, first with pistols and then with swords. Both men were wounded in the bout with swords, but it is not believed seriously.

M. Bernstein took exception to articles which appeared in M. Daudet's paper and challenged the editor. The duel came off this afternoon at the Parc Des Princess bicycle track.

RAID IN HARNETT.

Big Moonshine Still Captured by Party from Fayetteville.

(Fayetteville Observer, 21st.)

Uncle Sam got busy yesterday, went out in quest of moonshiners, and captured a very successful raid, capturing a big whiskey still, two alleged guilty parties, a lot of low wine, beer, etc.

The raiding party was composed of the following: U. S. Deputy Collector, J. B. Holland and U. S. Field Marshal A. J. Surles, of Fayetteville, U. S. Deputy Collector D. C. Downing, and U. S. Field Marshal J. A. Colvin, of Fayetteville, with Sheriff N. R. McGee and Deputy Sheriff J. McD. Monaghan, of Cumberland, as possemen.

Working on information, they came across the still in Harnett county, five miles southwest of Spout Springs. Being convinced by the location and by hearing a continuous conversation in a thicket that they had struck the right place, the party divided and then moved in, to find a very extensive booze factory, around which were gathered a crowd of negroes, who precipitately scattered in all directions.

In the mix-up two negroes, Willis McRae and Ed Fuller, were captured. McRae, who seemed to be driving a wagon, was shot in the arm, which was completely shattered with bullet-shot. The still, a seven-gallon one, was destroyed, together with 3,000 gallons of beer, 20 gallons of low wine, a quantity of mash, etc. A mule and wagon, a breech-loading gun and a fine $2 Smith & Wesson pistol were also captured. There was a lot of splendid hogs around the place, which had been fattening on the swill from the plant, but as these were not penned up they could not be seized.

Officer Holland at once put the two captured negroes in vehicles, carried them across country to Manchester, boarded the afternoon train from Greensboro and brought them to this city, where they were lodged in the county jail. McRae, the wounded man, was placed in the hospital ward of the jail, where Dr. Seavy Highsmith dressed his wound. He is doing as well as could be expected.

It was very evident that the still was being run night and day and was doing a thriving business in the manufacture of "white corn." In fact, Fuller, one of the negroes captured, who was caught lying asleep near the still, told the officers that he had worked all of Wednesday night, carrying water, keeping the fire up and the still running. This was one of the most successful raids made in this section in a long time, and resulted, not only in the destruction of the still, but in the complete routing of the moonshine gang.

BURGLAR AT ROCKY MOUNT.

Negro Entered Room Where Two Ladies Were Asleep.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 21.—Shortly after 4 o'clock this morning there was considerable excitement at the home of Mr. W. N. Shine, on Hill street, when a colored person, evidently a negro burglar, crawled into the window of a room where two of the young ladies of the home were asleep. The young man, who was dressed in a dark suit, crawled through the window through which he had entered, but a sister of the young ladies frightened him to the scene with a pistol and fired one time at the fleeing figure, but the shot missed its mark. He is believed to be the same negro who was seen in the room that the negro entered, and they are positive that they heard him attempt to enter the window a short time before, but that he was frightened off for some cause, and that he later returned and crawled in. The police, who were on the first floor, and that he was in the room when they screamed and he fled. The police hurried to the scene and made a search of the premises but they were unable to find any trace.

TRUCKING IN MOUNTAINS.

Asheville Magistrates Who Are Raising Vegetables for Market.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., July 21.—To two magistrates in Asheville it seems no matter whether they keep or not so far as finances are concerned. They have learned the secret of getting money from the soil. Magistrate M. A. Creamer has a small garden about 65x85 feet. Most of his vegetables are "father" late, and during the past month he sold about $50 worth of garden truck, and his garden is just now in its prime.

Magistrate W. A. Jones, Jr., has a much larger amount to his credit from his garden. He has more ground, too, about two-fifths of an acre. He began selling truck before the first of May, and this season he has sold $254 worth; since May 1st, $234. The beauty about the business is that it does not have to be solicited. Much of the stuff is sold to their neighbors and nearly all of the orders are taken by telephone. Mr. Jones stated that he had not sold any at all to the markets. The people like to get the vegetables fresh from the garden.

GOOD ROADS TRAIN.

Southern Railway Enterprise Will Reach Sanford Tuesday.

(Sanford Express.)

The citizens of this section will be given a fine opportunity to learn about the importance of good roads and the best methods of building and keeping them in repair, when the "Good Roads Train" headed by the Southern Railway and affiliated lines, working in conjunction with the United States Office of Public Roads, visits Sanford next Tuesday, July 25th, at 10 o'clock.

The train consists of lecture and demonstration coaches equipped with a stereopticon, exhibits and working models and accompanied by Messrs. L. E. Boykin, H. S. Fairbanks, road experts from the United States Department of Agriculture, who from wide experience are qualified to give the most valuable information on good roads building. Mr. W. J. Furibut, of the Land and Industrial Department of the Southern Railway, also goes with the train.

A Peek Into His Pocket would show the box of Buckner's Arnica Ointment that E. S. Loper, a carpenter, of Marlboro, N. Y., always carries. "I have never had a cut, wound, bruise or sore it would not soon heal," he writes. "Greatest healer of burns, boils, scalds, chapped hands and lips, fever-sores, skin eruptions, eczema, corns and piles. 25c. at R. R. Belamy's."

BELLAMY-GODWIN DEAL.

All-Absorbing Topic in Columbus—Treatment for Hookworm.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., July 21.—The report of Bellamy-Godwin deal has been the absorbing sensation in Whiteville this week, and which was fanned into a blaze by Mr. Bellamy's card in the Star of yesterday. Congressman Godwin's friends are standing loyally by him, but Mr. Bellamy has also his adherents. The consensus of opinion, however, is that if there is any foundation proven of that reported deal, both will be defeated. Your correspondent has not seen a man but denounces the deal, if it was really made. One prominent gentleman remarked that it places Hon. George H. Bellamy in a very unpleasant position, for it shows that in holding his seat in the Whiteville Beach convention, nearly precipitating a riot and endangering the unity of his party, instead of being actuated by loyalty to Godwin and patriotic motives, he was guided by the desire to promote his own selfish political interests. Several names are already suggested for Congress, among the number Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, Mr. J. R. Williamson, of Whiteville, and Solicitor Sinclair, of Fayetteville. None of these gentlemen have signified any desire to enter the race, but their names were suggested by friends. The prospect now is that we are going to have another heated campaign for Congress in this district again next year.

The Hookworm hospital has run short of medicine and can only treat extreme cases. The county appropriated $150 for medicine and the first two days more than half of Whiteville's portion for the entire week was used up. Next week the hospital will be carried to Fair Bluff, and it is predicted that as many patients will come in from South Carolina as from Columbus county, and the town is near the State line. Several bad cases have been treated in the hospital. Some of the nicest ladies here and in the county went to be examined. Over 80 per cent. of those examined have hookworm to a greater or less extent.

Solicitor Sinclair left last evening for Fayetteville but will return Monday to take up the remaining cases on the criminal docket. The case of Miss Marlowe, the young white girl charged with complicity in the Grists killing will first be tried. After getting through with his courts, Solicitor Sinclair will go to Glen Springs, S. C., to recuperate. He has recently lost over thirty pounds.

BUILDING AT WELDON.

New Brick Hotel—Steel Railroad Bridge and Station Under Way.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Weldon, N. C., July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bounds have been entertaining most delightfully at their home in South Weldon the past week. Their out-of-town guests were Messrs. Mary Powell, Rena Tunstall, Bettie Lee and Lula Lee, of Emporia, and Miss Kate Gray, of Williamsburg, Va. The handsome new brick hotel building being erected here is now nearly completed and in fine style. Work is progressing rapidly and the walls are above the first floor windows.

The splendid new steel bridge of the Coast Line across Roanoke river has been completed and is being tested in Richmond. The new steel bridge work is about completed. Freight trains will begin to run over the new bridge by August 1st. The building of this new route through Weldon for the A. C. L. has been a great piece of work and has cost over $1,000,000, including the new steel bridge, work is now progressing on the new union passenger station and before September 1st it is expected that passenger trains will be running over the new route.

Mrs. H. J. Jordan, Miss Ruth Clark and Miss Essie Pope have returned home from Ocean View. Miss Wiggins and daughter, Miss Katrina, who have been visiting relatives in Alabama, have returned home. Mr. J. T. Pope is spending a few days at Ocean View.

Mrs. R. B. Brickell is visiting relatives in Richmond. Misses Bernice Stainback and Pernice Clark have returned home from Richmond. Miss Florence Allen Hart is visiting relatives in Norfolk and Portsmouth. Miss Lila Whitehead, of Enfield, is here on a visit to relatives. W. R. Smith and J. W. Stange spent Monday and Tuesday in Norfolk and near-by resorts.

Miss Nannie Rodwell, of Warrenton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rodwell. Mrs. W. J. Ward, Miss Katharine and Master David Ward, are summering at Virginia Beach. Mrs. M. Austin attended the district conference at Boykin, Va., the past week.

TO CONTINUE SEARCH.

Father of Ensign Young Returns to New York From Concord.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Concord, N. C., July 21.—The Evening Tribune of this afternoon says that Dr. Robert S. Young has not given up the search for his missing boy as was reported in good faith in this paper this morning. Dr. Young went to Atlanta Wednesday night to bring his wife home from the hospital where she has been for some time for treatment.

He arrived here with her on a late train last night. He did not stop here, however, but went directly on to New York, where the search for Ensign Young will be renewed. He has every reason to believe that the whereabouts of his son will be revealed soon.

THREATENED WITH PTOMAIN.

Fayetteville Family Suffers Ill Effects of Ice Cream.

(Fayetteville Observer, 21st.)

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lilly, Miss Frances and Mr. Edmund Lilly and several guests at a house party at the Lilly residence on Haymarket were taken very sick last night after eating ice cream. Physicians were quickly summoned and relief was obtained before any serious sickness resulted. We are glad to know that all who were affected have entirely recovered.

COAST LINE IMPROVEMENTS.

New Equipment Ordered—Through Train From Cincinnati.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 21.—In addition to the doubling of the size of their shops at this point, work on which is to begin at an early date, the various contracts and requests for bids being in the hands of contractors, the building of a $50,000 Y. M. C. A. and a new passenger station and office building, the Atlantic Coast Line is planning considerable improvements along other lines the extent of which are not known as yet, and the plans for which have not been announced. It is known that for the Fall business there has been ordered 35 new engines, which are expected to be delivered some time this month and during a part of next. These engines will be of the very latest and improved type and will be a valued addition to the rolling stock of the company. All 35 of these engines will not see service on the first division of the company, but instead, they will be distributed over the several divisions of the company and pressed into service where they are greatest needed. This will place the Atlantic Coast Line in an even better position than ever before for the handling of the increased demands in the way of freight traffic, and this road has certainly enjoyed a large amount of freight traffic and the volume of business handled by them has been immense.

While there has been no official statement as yet made concerning the matter, it is expected that the Atlantic Coast Line will put on a train from either Chicago or Cincinnati through to Charleston in the early Fall, the new Southbound Railroad from Winston to Florence being called into use for the handling of this train through to the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line. It is understood that the new road which was opened in January is now fast getting into shape for the passenger trains of the heavier and faster type, while the freight business on this district since its opening has been a matter of considerable gratification to the road for it has certainly handled a volume of freight business already.

ABOUT THE HOUSE FLY.

Asheville Health Authorities Send Literature to Paris Doctor.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., July 21.—Literature on the mitea domestica, otherwise known as the common house fly, was today sent to Paris by the sanitary department of Asheville. It goes to Dr. Thienot, of that city, who as he says, is preparing a paper on the "habits, customs and destruction of the flies." But the manner in which the literature came to be sent reflects credit on the department in that it appears to be known as an authority on the destruction of the fly. Dr. William T. Hornaday, one of the directors of the New York Zoological Society, received a request from Dr. Thienot for literature on the fly, being under the erroneous impression that Dr. Hornaday was leading a crusade against the insect. As this was not the case Dr. Hornaday did the next best thing, or rather the best thing under the circumstances and referred the letter to Dr. McBrayer, of the local sanitary department. Dr. Hornaday learned of the crusade against flies in Asheville through the bulletins and "fly posters."

GOV. KITCHIN SPEAKS.

Heard at Annual Picnic in Wilson County—Blatant Crowd.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., July 21.—Governor Kitchin spoke to a crowd of about 2,500 people at the annual Rock Ridge picnic, this county, today. The Governor did not refer to the Senatorial election in his address or reply to his critics.

All four distinguished candidates for the United States Senate can stand on their record and their declaration of what they expect to stand for if they go to the Senate. Any one of them may be our Senator and any one of them who wins should do so on grounds that will win respect and honor from the people.

The threatening letter received by Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, looks too much like a joke for it to be seriously taken. Evidently the person who indited the epistle is too intelligent to be guilty of perpetrating anything but a joke. The wording of the letter is too refined to come from a Black Hand. We have no doubt the writer simply wanted to try his "fine Italian hand" in a witty effort to have some horse-play.

HARMONY AND THEN SOME.

When a man differs with you in opinion it is permissible to be sorry for him for not being as wise as you are, but don't fall out with him because he cannot see things through your spectacles. It is quite possible that you may have patronized a Jack-leg optometrist. Anyhow, tolerance of opinion indicates broadness and self-confidence. When a fellow gets real "ashy" or obstreperous over a mere difference of opinion he loses the equilibrium that is necessary to make his opinion weigh up to the standard.

To our Democratic brethren, who might accidentally have a difference of opinion as to whether a prehistoric fossil is that of a megatherium or a stegosaurus it is well to advise caution. They may as well laugh it off just like a man does when he tries to argue with the leading lady of the family. However, there are a whole lot of fellows who can raise Cain over a hill of beans, but the majority of us ought to consider that nothing but a mountain is our size. Certainly we should never part horses with a fellow Democrat over anything less than preserving North Carolina or saving the nation.

There is one thing sure about it—
all North Carolinians should think more of their State than they do about the personal ambitions of anyone, or two, or three or four men. To fall out over some other fellow's aspirations should be considered the limit.

It is not even a good idea to get intolerant towards even an honest republican, for he may see the error of his way and come right up to the mourner's bench, where you can give him the right hand of fellowship and put the Jeffersonian tag on him. Since North Carolina is about all we see worth saving, we conceive no reason why all North Carolinians should not be Democrats, anyhow, so she can be kept in the family. Our principal issue in politics is harmony and North Carolina, and North Carolinians of all brands of politics ought to get on the bandwagon and act accordingly.

Geographically, prospectively, and in a great many other particulars,
North Carolina is the greatest country
on the globe. We have a great foundation to build upon and her people should be united in the one idea that the happiness of North Carolina overshadows the initiative, the referendum
and the recall.

Some little old questions they have up now look like 20 cents compared with getting together and sticking together—for North Carolina. The only plank in the platform that doesn't require some "rule of reason" or other,
is "The Good Old North State Forever!"

"Keep your shirt on" and "It will all come out in the washing."

WE'LL CUT OUT LORIMER.

Speaking about ousting Senator Lorimer, have you ever seen such a conflicting lot of testimony since you were born? Evidently there has been bribery on somebody's part and the most stupendous lying on the part of a great many, but to fix it on the briber
and nail the liars is a task that seems to be as yet unfinished.

Doubtless, Lorimer is not honestly entitled to his seat, but unless the evidence yet to be produced is more direct, the prisoner at the bar will get the benefit of the doubt if the Senate renders its verdict in accordance with the constitution, the law and the facts in the case. In the present flickering light on the situation, one can readily see how some Senators could not conscientiously vote to oust on the testimony produced at the first investigation. Probably Lorimer finally will be expelled on suspicion, but not on proof, unless the Senate can sift the truth from the lies which probably both sides have glibly told during the investigation.

The public must be convinced that there was corruption in the election of Lorimer, and if it is proven on any person the seat should be declared vacant whether Senator Lorimer had anything to do with buying it or not.
It doesn't make any difference what a man's integrity and personal honor is, he should not be permitted by either Democratic or Republican votes to hold a seat in any such body as the United States Senate. It is possible that the most thoroughly honest man in the Republic may be elected to the Senate by fraud, but in that case he is not on trial himself but it is the honor of the Senate that is at stake
and must be vindicated by his expulsion.

That may or may not be the case with Lorimer, but to take the mass of conflicting testimony as it yet stands, it would be difficult at this time to prove the bribery and fix it on the briber. Even with all the new evidence in the case at the present investigation, up to now, we would hate to have it in for any Senator, who would vote to expell the Illinois Senator or vote against expulsion in view of the lack of proof. We would simply consider it an honest difference of opinion. It is more than likely that Lorimer is not entitled to his seat, but there is a strong and reasonable doubt in his favor, so if the Senate decides either way, the case is so puzzling that a judicious man who believes in safeguarding personal rights might assent to expulsion without condemna-

ing these Senators who had their honest doubts and voted the other way.

It is plain to see that the Lorimer
business is not a question in North Carolina politics and it will be a sensible lot of voters, who will refuse to let the Lorimer mess decide their position either for or against any Senator who either voted for expulsion or was so conscientious that he couldn't vote for expulsion, though he may have been satisfied in his own mind that there must have been
"something rotten in Denmark."

The fact is, the Lorimer problem is one of such conflicting and puzzling nature that it should cut no ice in North Carolina's line-up in the Senatorial contest now on in this State.
Support should be given to Clarke, Aycock, or Kitchin, or Simmons, on entirely other matters more seriously affecting the interests of North Carolina.

All that the average North Carolina-
ian will ever get out of the election of any man to the Senate is the satisfaction of having at Washington a Senator who can hold his own, who is beyond reproach, and whose service will count most in the development of North Carolina.

SAW WOOD AND SAY NOTHING.

The Durham Herald correctly observes: "For a wonder none of them are denying that the National platform said it."

Anyhow, who brought in that lumber plank and what interest demanded free lumber?

Who's got millions invested in the lumber business in Canada and wants a nice free market in the country which they deserted for Canada?

What part of the United States wants protection on every blasted thing it has to sell to other people and doesn't want even a revenue duty
on what it has to buy from North Carolina and other people?

Who went from the South to the National Democratic convention and discuss enough to keep from getting hit over the head with the lumber plank?

Who didn't find out that Billy Paterson was struck till they returned to North Carolina and heard him yelling in the piney woods?

Who is a hog for protection on what it manufactures and sells to the South,
and is two hogs for free raw material from the South?

Who wants both feet in the feed
trough and his head in the fodder
rack, all at the same time?

Who wants to buy free raw material cheap and sell protected manufactured products at the highest prices
that a trust can fix them?

Who is the Simple Simon that wants to play in an "open and shut game"
when it is the other fellow's game?

Who simply wants fair play when Congress levies a tariff for revenue
or a tariff for revenue and protection?
Who winks the other eye when they plainly see a chump?

Who wrote the lumber circular, and
why?

Who saw it first, that free lumber
had knot holes in it?

What two Senators and nine Congressmen voted right when they saw the Aldrich game of playing protected manufactures against Southern free raw materials?

What North Carolinian will give the other fellow a stick to break his head?

Who thinks the majority of North Carolinians are nutty?

Who thinks a 7 per cent. duty on lumber is protection enough to buy a gangplank?

Who had better quit monkeying
with the buzz-saw?

CURRENT COMMENT.

They may defeat Simmons, but he

ing to his defense, which is nothing more than they should do.—Durham

From all indications the politicians
of North Carolina are going to table
Senator Simmons. While it is a fact, Mr. Simmons has voted against every thing we are in favor of, but we see no reason in turning down a man of experience for a man who has no training in affairs of State.—Robeson (N. C.) Messenger.

It is a funny thing to us that every man thinks that it is the duty of the newspaper to criticize every one except himself. Each man is anxious for you to "jump on" somebody but when it comes to him and his friends
he cannot see that the paper has a bit of right to say a single word. Isn't that funny?—Florence Times.

There is a big fight on in Pennsylvania among Democrats to determine which faction shall control the Democratic organization. It is bitter and will be fought to the finish. The most significant thing in politics this year is this fact: Both factions agree in the support of Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency. This was the most significant political straw of the year.

Pennsylvania has more votes in the electoral college than any State except New York. It is in the throes of a fierce fight for control of the organization, and yet both elements agree that the Pennsylvania delegation shall be in favor of the nomination of Wilson. Every sign points to the nomination and election of Wilson.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The votes of the North Carolina Congressmen on lumber promises to be somewhat of a burning issue in the campaign and at the outset the Chambers wants to get the record of each one straight, so far as it can do so. It is easy to place Senator Overman, for in his speech on the floor of the Senate, he explained his vote.
Addressing the President, he said: "I voted every article they had to buy lumber, nails, hinges, glass, paint and everything which goes into building
the home, the school house, and the church on the free list. But when you voted down this amendment and singled out one single item, lumber,
to go on the free list, while other things which go into building the home were to be taxed on an average of about 40 per cent. I voted against
it. I did not propose to see my people bear the burden of a heavy tax which is an arbitrary duty of 5 per cent, and which will produce some revenue to run the government." Senator Overman was not influenced by the celebrated Eller circular, for at that time he had not seen the document and did not know it had been issued. His vote was a protest against discrimination in favor of the New England States, which discrimination consisted in an effort to single out lumber and place it on the free list, while everything else produced and manufactured in New England which goes into the building of a home, was highly protected. This much in justification of the junior Senator's vote for a 5 per cent. duty on lumber.—

THE TEXAS ELECTION.

"Wets" and "Drys" to Line Up Today.
At Birmingham.

Dallas, Texas, July 21.—It is north Texas against south Texas in tomorrow's State-wide prohibition election, according to dispatches today from Associated Press correspondents on the closing of the campaign in the cities, towns and more important county seats throughout the entire State.

The ants are making the most confident claims in south Texas while the prohibitionists are doing the same in north Texas from Louisiana to the New Mexican State line. It is noticeable, however, that the greater number of the "claims" or confident majesties on either side are by a very small margin. "Overwhelming majority" is almost an unheard of expression.

Campaigning appears to have been warmest at least in the number of speeches made, in the populous sections of north and east Texas. As an indication of today's claims throughout those sections it may be said that out of about 50 towns, the number where the prohibitionists claim a distinct majority and where the pro and anti claims make an even break, are about equal.

Today's summaries of the campaign
are notable for absence of mention of more than sporadic charges of corruption on either side.

For Local Option Election.

Birmingham, Ala., July 21.—Probate Judge J. P. Stiles this morning set August 24th as the date for the local option election in this city and county. Both the local optionists and the prohibitionists have organized thoroughly and a big fight is expected. Mobile and Montgomery have gone "wet."

retary of the Interior.

Mr. Ballinger will speak here at the Public Lands Convention September

zen conditions have changed," he said in his letter of acceptance of the invitation to speak in Denver.

THIN FOLKS MADE PLUMP.

Samose Ideal Flesh Builder Says
Druggist J. Hicks Bunting

Thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment.

If you are thin, it is because the food you eat is not assimilated and passes through the system without building up the flesh and tissues as it should.

You can readily get plump and rosy
by using Samose a tissue forming food which when taken with the meals, immediately becomes a flesh building
and life giving element in the blood.

Use Samose for a few days and increase of life, vigor and weight is felt—and you will notice yourself getting plump and rosy.

Samose builds up the system, puts flesh on the bones, brings back the glow of health to the pallid cheek and removes the tired and languid feeling which is the result of exhaustion and low vitality.

J. Hicks Bunting is introducing Samose to his customers and recommends it highly, and gives the best proof of his belief that Samose will do all that is claimed for it by offering to refund the money if it fails to increase the weight and restore good health.

FROM CAPE HAITIEN.

Conditions Assumed More Normal Aspect Here Yesterday.

Cape Haitien, July 21.—Conditions
here today assumed a more normal aspect. General Alberto Salnave is at the head of the regular forces and General Alfred Auguste has been appointed commandant of the town. The revolutionary force at Trou is now advancing towards Cape Haitien.

General Turenne Jean Gilles, is a refugee in the Italian consulate. His house and the military properties and works have been pillaged. Several stores of Arab traders have been wrecked.

President Simon Doomed?

Washington, July 21.—President Simon, of Haiti, appears doomed to follow President Diaz, of Mexico, and to give way to a new revolutionary government, according to advices reaching Washington. In the opinion of Captain Dismukes, of the gunboat Petrel, which is at Port Au Prince, after watching the operations of the revolutionists at Gonaives, the revolutionists already practically are victorious and all of the towns of importance except the capital are in their possession.

MANY ARRIVALS AT THE BEACH

Nearly Two Hundred People Came in Yesterday on Week-End Excursion—Both Hotels Crowded at Wrightsville.

Today at Wrightsville Beach both the splendid hotels are filled to their capacity with happy pleasure seekers from all over this State, and, in fact, the South Atlantic States, and from the number of reservations in the hands of the managements it is highly probable that this condition will exist from now until the close of the season.

Yesterday the week-end excursion over the Seaboard Air Line brought to the city nearly 200 people from Georgia and other South Atlantic States. The excursionists went at once to the famous resort and are now enjoying the manifold pleasures for which it has become famous the country over. Most of the visitors who came in yesterday were from Atlanta and other points in Georgia, and this fact only goes to prove that Wrightsville Beach is steadily gaining in popularity with the citizens of the Georgia metropolis.

With the many forms of recreation and amusement which the beach affords, today hangs heavy on the hands of no one. Fishing, sailing and shell fishing parties are out every day and evening; during the morning and afternoon bathing hours the surf is the refuge of hundreds, and in the evenings many charming little social functions occupy the attention of the guests. Fishing is as good, if not better, this season than for years, and some remarkable catches have been made.

Among the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were Miss Mary Dee Wooten, Chadbourn; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Owen, West Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING.

Three Young Men from Red Springs Pays Costs for Joy Ride.

Messrs. W. E. Sykes, O. R. Brown and J. H. Townsend, three young men from Red Springs, were arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Sheriff S. P. Cowan charging them with exceeding the speed laws. They submitted to the charge before Justice Harris and were taxed the costs of the case.

The young men came from Red Springs several days ago in a Hudson touring car, which they parked at Wrightsville Sound while they spent some time on Wrightsville Beach. They had started on the return trip yesterday and they were making all kinds of time when they passed Sheriff Cowan in his machine on the turnpike coming from the sound.

The Sheriff followed to the city and had the warrant issued at once. The boys admitted that they were exceeding the speed limit, but stated that they were in a hurry to get back to their home.

Weekly Gun Club Shoot.

Mr. John E. Taylor was high man in the regular event at the weekly shoot of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon, and Mr. Clayton Grant, Esq., won the box of cigars offered by Mr. Crumpler for high gun in the special event. Mr. Grant shot from the 16-yard line. In this event Mr. J. D. Barnes, representing the United Metallic Cartridge Company, made the highest score, shooting from the 20-yard line, but being a professional he was not eligible to the prize. Next week the final shoot prior to the registered tournament here next month will be held. All the members are requested to be present and get in form for the tournament.

REAL PURPOSE OF RECALL

Believed Pretty Generally That Whiskey People Are Back of the Movement—Sufficient Number of Cases.

The impression which prevailed to some extent Thursday that the movement for the recall of the Mayor and the Councilmen came as a result of the adoption by the Council of an ordinance providing for the inspection of places where intoxicants are being sold, gained considerably yesterday among all classes of Wilmington's citizenship. Quite a number of those who signed the petition the day before for the removal of the officials are said to have stated emphatically that their eyes had been opened in the preceding 24 hours to the real purpose in view and that they would demand that their names be stricken off.

Underlying the whole affair is a desire on the part of dealers in and extensive purchasers of intoxicants to get even with the Council for forcing upon them a law which, if enforced, would mean pretty strict observance of the State prohibition law, is the opinion of a great many people who have studied the situation and make inquiries from various sources. It is known that quite a number have shown some uneasiness ever since the adoption of the ordinance providing for an inspection of all places which have United States license to sell whiskey or malt, and when the recall proposition was first whispered in the downtown district the guess was made that back of it all is a desire to punish the Councilmen for displaying such an unusual quality of nerve and also the hope that men might be put in office who would not attempt any interference. Color was given to this yesterday and now a large portion of the people of the city hold this view, whether right or wrong.

It also developed yesterday that those who opposed the enforcement of the ordinance, which has caused such a stir during the past few days, are not taking any prominent part in the movement for the recall. In fact, with one or two exceptions they are not having any hand at all in the matter, it was said upon pretty good authority yesterday. One man who circulated a petition and secured over 250 names said that cow ordinance was not on his paper. Adoption by the Council of the ordinance is set forth in the petition as one of the causes for the recall. This is no doubt an opportunist, and those who opposed the ordinance, or certain of the side opposite, are striking just when the people were stirred up over the ordinance and at a time when various persons can be found who think they have some personal grievance against the body. However, there is reason to believe that the movement for the recall is a sufficient number of names has not yet been determined. It will depend upon the construction of the city attorney as to what is meant by "the last preceding primary election" as it appears in Section 26 of the commission bill. If reference is made to the election two years ago, then the number of signatures required will be about 800, or 35 per cent. of the total vote cast for Capt. W. G. MacRae and Mr. Martin O'Brien for Mayor two years ago.

Should an election be called and held about October 1st, as early as it could be held, the publicity will govern the majority, which probably is a fact overlooked by some agitating recall. No matter how many there are in the rate for Councilman from each ward the one receiving the highest vote will be elected from that ward.

An interesting point was raised yesterday with reference to the office of Mayor. In the event of an election and all the members of the Council, including the Mayor, are returned, to whom would fall the mayoralty honors—the incumbent or the one receiving the highest vote should any get a larger vote from the Mayor.

Mayor Joseph D. Smith and all the five Councilmen do not appear to be the least bit disturbed about the efforts at recall and are going ahead with their work as if everything they do pleases every citizen in the city. They feel that they have nothing to fear; that in the event of an election they will be returned to the man to their office.

The recall petitions may not be presented to the Council Tuesday afternoon, but held for the following Tuesday, as it is desired to copy the names of a typewriter so as to facilitate the work of the city clerk and treasurer, who has to pass upon the question of whether or not the list contains the required number of qualified electors.

Stand by Dr. Nesbitt. At the health office yesterday many of the best citizens of the city called to express their confidence in Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, the superintendent of health, and to assure him that they were heartily in accord with his plans and measures for a more sanitary city. They told Dr. Nesbitt that while it has been stated that the movement for a recall had its inception in the stringent cow ordinance that was recently passed by the City Council under Dr. Nesbitt's advice, that they knew that such was not strictly the truth. A number of them declared that the movement was started because of the ordinance recently passed giving the police the power to search the premises of anyone holding a United States license for the sale of intoxicating liquors. The callers made it plain to Dr. Nesbitt that the public, or the majority, thoroughly agrees with him in regard to his position on the health matters.

Dr. Nesbitt is, of course, gratified to know that the sentiment of the people is with him and that his work so far and his plans for the future are meeting with their approval.

MOORE'S CREEK CELEBRATION

Annual Event at Historic Battle Ground Thursday of Next Week—W. P. Stacy, Esq., Will Be Orator—Programme.

The anniversary celebration of the battle of Moore's Creek, the first signal victory of the American Revolution, will take place on that historic spot near Currie, next Thursday. The customary affair is an all-day picnic of the people of three or four counties, and these occasions are generally attended by two or three thousand people. The event next Thursday promises to be one of the biggest celebrations held under the auspices of the Battle Ground Association.

The celebrations are always enjoyable, and among the throng in attendance Wilmington always sends a large quota. Next Thursday there will be no exception to the rule. The programme of the day will be an address by W. P. Stacy, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, a gifted and eloquent speaker who is fast making a reputation as an orator. He has been requisitioned on several occasions, and the people who will hear him at the battle ground next Thursday may anticipate something worth hearing.

The programme is about complete and some fine music is assured for the occasion. Mr. James F. Moore and Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, respectively, president and vice-president of the Battle Ground Association, were in the city yesterday and secured the Cape Fear Independent Band, of Wilmington, for the day. In addition to the address and music, a fine basket dinner is always one of the enjoyable features of the occasion. President Moore expects a large throng and is making arrangements accordingly.

For this event the Atlantic Coast Line will sell round-trip tickets to Currie for 60 cents. The train leaves Wilmington at 8:45 A. M. and returns about 8 o'clock in the evening. Reduced rates are also given from Sanford and Fayetteville.

ALLEGED HOUSE BREAKER

Negro Believed to Have Had Hand in Numerous Robberies Sent Over to Superior Court—Other Cases Yesterday.

Yesterday's morning session of the Recorder's court was featured with the trial of William Blount, colored, charged with entering the house of Hattie Johnson, a woman of the under-world, some days ago, and who is believed to have been responsible for a considerable portion of the large number of robberies which have been committed throughout the city this summer. Blount was arrested some days ago as the result of activities of the officers, but the hearing was postponed until yesterday morning.

The negro was recognized by the woman and one other occupant of her house as the person who attempted to break into the place a few nights ago. Probable cause being found Blount was bound over to Superior Court, which begins Monday, and in default of $1,000 bond was committed to jail.

Gus Carvel, colored, was arraigned on the charge of stealing a bicycle from Goylan & Hancock, the shoe dealers, yesterday morning. The bicycle was out in front of the store when the negro passed by and started off with it. He was seen by Mr. Boylan, who gave chase and recovered the "bike." There was considerable doubt as to the negro's sanity and judgment was reserved until he can be given examination as to his mental condition by Col. John D. Taylor, Clerk of Superior Court.

Thos. E. Goff, a white man, was tried on the charge of simple assault on a female in two cases in violation of a special act of the last Legislature. The females in the cases are colored. He was found guilty and in one case was fined $25 and costs, while only the costs were exacted in the other. Charged with disturbing a religious meeting in Federal Point township on the night of May 15th, 1910, Peter Farrow, colored, was arraigned. The negro entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to three months on the county roads. As soon as sentence was passed the negro employed counsel, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., and gave notice of an appeal to Superior Court. The case came up from Justice Bornemann's court.

Alex. Hall, colored, who has figured several times in the Recorder's court, was called to answer the charge of vagrancy. While the evidence did not appear to be quite conclusive, judgment was reserved until today. The negro owes an old fine and cost and he will have this to pay before he is again given his freedom.

BIDS FOR STORM SEWERS

Opened Yesterday by Department of Streets—Council Will Make the Award—The Red Cross Street Work.

Pursuant to advertisement bids were opened at noon yesterday in the office of Councilman Parker Quince Moore, in charge of the Departments of Streets and Wharves, for laying storm sewers and necessary appurtenances on certain streets in the city, the work consisting approximately of 2,000 lineal feet of sewer, ranging in size from 24-inch to 10-inch, including the necessary manholes and inlets, the whole amounting to probably $2,500. There were present Councilmen P. Q. Moore, M. G. Tiencken and W. E. Perdue.

Two bids were received, one from Mr. W. L. DeRosset and the other from Mr. C. K. Humphreys, former city engineer. The bid of Mr. DeRosset was lower than the other. The Councilmen will make recommendation to the Council at its meeting Tuesday when the contract for the work will most likely be awarded.

Councilman Moore stated last night that work of laying vitrified brick on Red Cross street at its intersection with Front street would be begun this morning. It has been determined to pave Red Cross street from Front to the railroad bridge with brick, and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Perhaps no street in the city needs improvement as bad as Red Cross and the public will learn with pleasure that the work is now about to be commenced in earnest.

Things have been moving in the Streets and Wharves Department ever since the new form of government was inaugurated. Soon after the Council took up the reins of government plans were set on foot for resuming work on the Sixth street bridge which was left as a legacy by the Street Commission. The materials were on the ground, but had not been put in place, the contracting concern, the Southern Construction Co., of Burlington, having forfeited its contract. When the muddle had been straightened sufficiently to admit of this action, the contract to complete the structure was awarded to Mr. D. O'Brien, a well known engineer at about $1,400. Councilman Moore said last night that the bridge would be completed and open for traffic within two weeks.

FUNERAL OF MR. EINSTEIN.

Sad Services Held at Temple of Israel Yesterday Morning.

The funeral of Mr. Simon Einstein, a venerable and highly esteemed citizen of this city, who died Thursday morning as a result of injuries received when he was knocked down by a street car Saturday evening, was held from the Temple of Israel at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and there were present a large concourse of relatives and friends. Many beautiful floral designs bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which Mr. Einstein was held by numerous friends in this city, and were also present for the past two years. In the absence from the city of the Rabbi, Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn, the sad services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Meyerberg, of Goldsboro, who had known Mr. Einstein for the past 25 years and to whose life and character he paid devoted tribute. Following the services the body was tenderly borne to Oakdale cemetery, where the interment took place. The pallbearers were Messrs. M. W. Jacob, M. J. Heyer, L. W. Solomon, Clayton Giles, Sr., Jacob Weil and Mayor Joseph D. Smith. There were here a number of out-of-town friends of the deceased to attend the services.

Mr. Einstein came to Wilmington about two years ago from Kingston, and the Free Press of that town had the following among other things to say of him:

"Mr. Einstein's great love for Kingston and the people of this community was manifest on every possible occasion and it was this that so endeared him to the citizens here. He was generous to a fault and no call for assistance was worthy enough to fail to get a response from him. The funeral will take place Friday morning."

Thursday afternoon's Goldsboro Argus contained the following:

"The death of Mr. Simon Einstein, at an advanced age, occurred this morning at his home in Wilmington, where he had lived for the past two or three years. Prior to that time he had lived a life time in Kingston, where he was most highly esteemed. He was a brother of the late Mr. Moses Einstein, of this city, and an uncle of Mrs. Sol Weil. The funeral will be held in Wilmington tomorrow afternoon."

Home-Made Sanitary Closets. Mr. J. G. Johnston, who lives at No. 1410 Market street, has rigged up a sanitary closet which he thinks will answer every purpose and can be made at considerably less cost than the tin receptacles which have been decided upon for use in the city. Mr. Johnston has shown us device to Mr. Nesbitt, superintendent of health, and will appear before the Council at its meeting Tuesday afternoon. A common hard tin is used. Mr. Johnston is of the opinion that his device may be used to good advantage in the outlying districts among the people who are not able to pay the price of the tin receptacles.

A NERVE TONIC. Horsford's Acid Phosphate. Recommended for relief of insomnia, impaired nerve force and fatigue. Invigorates the entire system.

INSURANCE MEN AT THE BEACH

One Thousand Dollar Club of Security Life and Annuity Company Now in Annual Session at the Seashore Hotel.

At the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, yesterday the One Thousand Dollar Club of the Security Life and Annuity Company, of Greensboro, convened in annual session. This club is composed of the agents of the company who write insurance to the amount of $100,000 or more during the 12 months of the year. It met at Wrightsville Beach last year.

There are in attendance at the meeting this year about 25 members from North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Florida. The company pays the expenses of the body, giving the agents the annual outing for their faithful services during the year. Mr. Jno. L. Wimish, of Winston-Salem, is president of the club and Mr. D. A. Rankin, of Macon, Ga., secretary and treasurer.

The insurance men will be at the beach until Monday, although the last business session will be held today. They will devote the remainder of the time to recreation and amusement, and, of course, will have no trouble in finding it at the famous seaside resort.

At the session yesterday the feature was an address on "Enthusiasm," by C. C. Taylor, of Greensboro, agency manager of the Security Life and Annuity Company. Mr. Taylor's talk was full of that quality which he chose as his subject, and his remarks were heard with much interest by the members.

Today's session will bring to a close the business part of the meeting. A number of speeches will be made and other business will be considered and discussed.

Among the members of the One Thousand Dollar Club are a number of agents who have written over $100,000 worth of insurance during the past year and it is said that one member has written $500,000 worth.

ANNUAL ENGINEER'S REPORT.

Gratifying Increase in Commerce in Port for Past Year.

Decidedly gratifying is the steady increase of commerce handled through this port as shown by the annual report of the United States Engineer's office on the exports and imports of the year. This report was made public yesterday and the figures it contains are of more than passing interest.

The commerce of the report for the calendar year 1910 was 944,657 tons, valued at $59,501,687, compared with 872,426 tons, valued at $52,214,254 for 1909, an increase of 72,231 tons and $2,287,433 for the year.

Cotton composed the bulk of this traffic, the firm of Alexander Sprun & Son handling most of it. As Wilmington is the fourth largest cotton exporting city in the world, the figures relative to last year's exports of the staple are of interest. For the year of 1910, 364,996 bales of cotton were loaded on ships at this port. Most of this cotton was shipped to England. The greatest number of bales loaded on one steamer was 17,417, on the tramp steamer Freidland, bound for England. The steamer Hyperia, loaded with cotton for Liverpool, had the greatest draught of any steamer in the port last year, drawing 22 feet and five inches.

ANOTHER CHARGE AGAINST HIM.

Collins Accused of Giving Bradshaw a Knock Out Drop.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Joe Collins, who is out under $100 bond pending his trial for alleged violation of the prohibition law, charging him with contempt of court in interfering with a witness in the "blowing tiger" case.

John Bradshaw took the affidavit upon which the warrant was sworn out against Collins in the retailing charge several days ago. The case was set for hearing before Justice Harris yesterday, but when the time came for the trial Bradshaw could not be located. On the day of the hearing was postponed until today. Later Bradshaw was found in a car house in Brooklyn. He seemed to be under the influence of some drug. He was lodged in jail to insure his appearance at the trial today. It is said that Collins had boasted of giving Bradshaw a drug or knockout drop in order to prevent his testifying at the trial yesterday, and when this was learned Justice Harris promptly issued a warrant for his arrest. Up to a late hour last night he had not been apprehended. If he fails to appear at the trial today he will forfeit the $100 cash bond.

VISIT AFTER THIRTY YEARS.

Dr. C. D. Bell Spent Monday and Tuesday at Burgaw.

This week's Burgaw Chronicle contained the following of friends in this city of Dr. Bell: "Dr. C. D. Bell, New Hanover's coroner, was here Monday and Tuesday to testify in the murder cases brought here from Wilmington. Dr. Bell is one of Pender's sons, being raised on Long Creek. He is the son of Mr. F. H. Bell, who now resides at Long Creek."

"Dr. Bell left Pender in 1879, completing his medical course at the University of New York and Maryland. This is his first visit to Burgaw since the county seat was moved from Waltha here about thirty years ago. At that time Burgaw was only a few roads by a front pond. He was greatly pleased and surprised at our wonderful development and says the only thing needed to place Pender in the forefront of progressive counties, is a system of good roads."

Funeral of an Infant.

The funeral of Irene Xanthos, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Xanthos, No. 314 North Fifth street, whose death occurred early yesterday, was held from the family residence yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Rev. W. E. Cox conducted the services and interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The sorrowing parents will have the tender sympathy of friends in their bereavement.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Sondford Express: "There was a call meeting of Camp Ransom No. 1669 at Lee county court house July 15th. Roll call and about 30 of the 'boys' responded, 20 of whom hope to attend the State Reunion to be held in Wilmington the 2nd and 3rd of August."

In an advertisement elsewhere in this issue, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, states that the sanitary closet outfits will be ready for delivery Monday. Orders for the closets are coming in right along and the health officials expect to be busy for some time with the work of filling these orders.

—Attention is called to the announcement of Mr. Wm. Dennis, elsewhere in today's paper. He will have a flat load of fresh Town Creek watermelons at foot of Dock street today, which he will retail or wholesale at very moderate prices. They are guaranteed strictly fresh and are usually well developed specimens.

SECOND DEGREE MURDER.

Garfield Ford, Colored, Convicted in Pender County Court.

According to the Pender Chronicle, which reached here yesterday, Garfield Ford, colored, who was tried in Superior Court at Burgaw Thursday for the killing of his wife in this county some months ago, was found guilty of murder in the second degree, but sentence has not been passed as the hour the paper went to press. R. F. Brooks, Esq., of this city, represented the negro and he stated yesterday that he had not heard what sentence had been imposed.

Ford killed his wife in the southern section of the city when he found her in company with another man. She was standing in an alley at the time the fatal shot was fired. Ford ran, but was captured before he had gone a block, by mounted police officers.

BECOMES EFFECTIVE TODAY.

Ordinance Giving Police Right to Search Places for Whiskey.

The ordinance adopted ten days ago by the City Council giving the police the authority to search the premises of all persons having a United States license to sell whiskey or malt is effective today, but no effort at enforcement of the measure will be made until next week, or even later, it was said at police headquarters yesterday. The reason of the delay is that the officers have not a few days of those who have United States license, and in order to get this it will be necessary to send to Raleigh. Owing to the fact that the list will most likely be used in court against any defendant who may be arrested, Chief of Police Fowler or some other officer will probably go to Raleigh and obtain the list from the record. The police have a list, but it is an old one, being for the fiscal year ending June 30th. It is stated that the list will be obtained within the next few days, and then officers will make inspections of the places of those having a license.

Sermon to Children.

At Fifth Street Methodist church, Sunday morning at 11 A. M., the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams, will preach a special sermon to children. Parents wishing to have their children baptized will please have them at the service. The doors of the church will be open for the receiving of new members. The public cordially invited.

SUBWAY SIR WALTER RALEIGH

Young Man Discovers Way to Conquer Raging Torrent in Station Entrance.

When the train pulled in the other night at One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street and Broadway, the passengers who alighted at the station thought for a moment they had been put off at Niagara instead, says the New York Times. The subway entrance there is at the foot of a goosy hill. The sewers couldn't carry off the thunderstorm fast enough, and down the grade the water of what seemed like 40 downbursts was pouring. Into the subway entrance it rippled and foamed and down the stairs in a beautiful series of cascades.

The residents of Washington Heights who were more anxious to get home than to gaze upon the damp loveliness of waterfalls began to think of ways and means of egress. Suddenly a man in brown silk socks and glossy tan shoes whisked off these articles of apparel, rolled up his trousers, stuffed his footgear in his pockets, seized the girl he was escorting, and made his way with her in his arms through the raging torrent and up the stairs to a waiting taxi. It happened in a minute, but soon various men on the platform were doing the same thing.

"Well," grunted the old, fat ticket chopper, "I've been at this same old stand ever since the station was opened, but this is the first time I've had a whole comic opera acted out with me in the best seat in the audience. The subway ain't such a dopy dump, after all."

TAFT AT REUNION AFTER HARD TRIP

from Washington with the President made the trip in short order. On the further bank they stopped. Passing carriages were called into service and the marooned senators and the solicitor general of the United States were transferred with little ceremony and much haste from a useless automobile to a carriage and then to shore.

Senator Nelson was taken into the President's car.
Two miles further south the scene was repeated, only this time the attempt at forming a line failed miserably in spite of Major Butt's efforts to find a crossing. One of the three Presidential cars was sent ahead manned by secret service men only. It died in the channel and the secret service men waded back to shore.

Major Butt, wet to the arm pits, came back disconsolate to meet the Presidential salute. At this crossing a few neighborhood farmers with their wives had gathered, checked also in their efforts to get to Manassas. They looked at the President in awe and at the major in some amusement.

Back over the same road they had just traveled the White House car, now containing another senator, traveled a short time before they had to resort once again to horse and carriage, but once across they piled into the machines again and by another road sought the battlefield.

Major Butt, wet to the skin, hung his socks on the wind shield of the President's car. At times he was forced to quit the car to lead frightened horses by for the law of Virginia requires an automobile to perform this duty and the President would obey it. Representative Carlin, of Virginia, who started with the President, alternated with the major in calming horses and trying to look happy.

When the President finally chugged into Manassas Senators Martin and Nelson, Representative Carlin, Secretary Hilles and Major Butt—with his boots on again—were the only survivors, the rest were somewhere behind stuck in the Virginia roads or the Virginia creeks.

The President was introduced by Governor Mann, of Virginia, who said: "He is the President of the United States—our President, for Virginia claims to be more entitled to call him our President than any other State, except Ohio. Mr. Taft is the son of Ohio, and the grand-son of Virginia."

Taft Talks to Veterans.
The President referred with feeling to the dreadful loss of life and suffering during the Civil War.

"I don't know," he said, "whether peaceful means could have accomplished the result which we now know was best. I deplore war. I wish it could be abolished entirely. But we developed a strength during that struggle of which the world did not know and which we ourselves did not understand. We proved to the world our ability to fight out our differences to the death, and to reunite after the greatest civil war in history to form the greatest nation in the world."

"My greatest ambition as President of the United States is to do everything that is possible to the world, to be able to bring all of the sections of this country even closer together. I want them all to feel that the United States government is their government; that the President is their President and that the Supreme Court is their Supreme Court."

Declaring that men who have been to war know what it is and want no more of it, the President said: "Therefore, I look to you veterans of the Civil War to aid in the movement for peace."

"I am glad to announce here today that an England has agreed to enter into an arbitration treaty with the United States, and France has signified her willingness to enter into the same treaty. Both treaties will be signed within ten days, and I expect to be able to announce within a few days that three other nations have entered into the agreement. This news I bring to the veterans of a real war, because I know they will most appreciate permanent peace."

"Virginia is a 'virgin' State. Its soil and its streams gather about you and cling to you—here shouts of laughter completely drowned the President's voice and he stopped speaking to join in the laugh."

The President concluded with a tribute to the beautiful sentiment which inspired the Blue and Gray Reunion on the battlefield. Then, standing beside the gray clad governor of Virginia, he posed for the photographers.

The President's visit to Manassas was at the close of the Manassas jubilee reunion, which began Monday. Each day this week there had been ceremonies commemorative of stirring war events, but today occurred the most dramatic incident of the week—the advance of veterans in blue and gray to meet and shake hands where they had fought 50 years before. Three hundred and fifty ex-Confederates formed in a double line facing north, while a dozen yards away stood half that number of Union veterans, facing south.

At a signal the veterans advanced with outstretched hand. Above the Southern line waved a small Virginia flag, the only standard to be seen. Meeting, the veterans with clasped hands stood for five minutes grouped about the little blue flag, vowing eternal friendship and recounting incidents of "50 years ago."

Earlier in the day the crowd listened to speeches by Dr. George C. Round, Governor Mann, Major D. R. Lowell, chairman of the Blue and Gray National Organization, and Col. Edmund Berkeley, of Virginia.

Governor Mann said that the deeds that were done during the Civil War raised the standard of manhood throughout the civilized world. He declared that the war was not fought on account of slavery, but to settle an inevitable question that must have been brought on war at some time. Now there is an indissoluble union. He dwelt upon the progress and prosperity of the South, saying, "we've stopped eating persimmons for breakfast."

The reunion closed tonight with a "camp fire" in the court house yard.

Taft at Home.
Washington, July 21.—President Taft got back to Washington shortly before 9 o'clock late for dinner, spattered with Virginia mud, but happy.

The ill luck that attended him on his trip to Bull Run and Manassas did not desert him, for when he reached ed the capital, a terrific downpour was in progress. Some of the senators whom he rescued and cared for on the trip to Manassas came back with him, but others were brought back in one of the few automobiles that weathered the storm and the Virginia roads.

Governor Mann's Address.
The War Between the States was epochal, Governor William H. Mann, of Virginia, maintained in a speech today at the reunion of the Blue and Gray. It established an indissoluble union and brought the people of the whole country together as they had never before been united and developed the best characteristics of American manhood.

The marvelous recuperation of the South since the War was dwelt upon by the governor, who presented statistical information of its progress and resources.

"In 1860 the population of the Southern States was 11,081,146, of whom 253,482 were white of foreign birth, and 4,075,484 were negroes," said Governor Mann. "In 1910 it was 27,529,853."

"In 1860 Alabama, Arkansas, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia had invested in manufacturing establishments $142,368,237, producing an annual output of $240,609,780. In 1910 these figures had grown in capital invested to $2,120,000,000 and products to $2,590,000,000."

"In 1860 the South had 297 banks, with aggregate of capital, specie and deposits of $213,736,257. Now the South has 1,561 National banks with resources amounting to $1,376,675,807, and deposits, private and savings banks amounting to $338,250,474, the whole aggregating $2,068,926,281. I have no means of getting the wealth of the South in 1860, and in any case the value of the negroes would have to be deducted, but now the wealth of the South is $21,250,000,000."

"The income of the South in 1910 from its farms was $2,630,000,000; from its forests $440,000,000; from its mines $280,000,000; total $6,010,000,000."

"The cotton crop of the South with the seed was worth last year one billion of dollars."

"The South has four hundred and ninety billion tons of coal and ten billions of tons of iron ore."

"We have increased our railroad mileage to 71,997 miles; have 16,900 miles of navigable streams, and 2,500 miles of coast line."

"Our export of merchandise amounted in 1910 to $628,000,000 and the cotton of the South gives to the country its balance of trade with foreign nations, and furnishes the basis for a large proportion of its bills of exchange."

"In 1910 there was a decrease of the wheat crop for that year of 58,500,000 bushels. In the rest of the country there was an increase of 27,000,000 of bushels in the South over the crop of 1909."

"The South is rapidly waking up to the need of improved scientific methods of agriculture, and the result of which have been obtained from lands considered worn out have been so wonderful that I have reached the conclusion that the man on top may be worn out but the land never is."

"No other section of the country equals the South in the aggressive, unrelenting efforts for agriculture, mining, manufacturing or as a place of residence."

TEXT BOOK COMMISSION.

Sub-Committee Working Rapidly—Report on August 3rd.
(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—The sub-commission of the State Commission for the adoption of the textbooks for use in the public schools of the State during the next five years, is working steadily on the personal examination of the hundreds of books being offered for adoption and there is every indication that their reports will be ready along with recommendations when the full commission meets August 3rd, when the commission will resume sessions for final adoption. In the meantime the keenest interest is being felt by people in every part of the State as to the books that will be placed in the hands of their children through this impending adoption. While there is talk of there being books that are being urged for adoption that are not in line with Southern thought, sentiment and conception of facts, history and otherwise, there is general confidence in the wisdom of the text book commission when it comes to the passing upon the adaptability of the books being considered.

HOUSE CAUCUS ON TUESDAY.
Cotton Tariff Schedule Will be Up for Consideration.

Washington, July 21.—Democratic members of the House will caucus next Tuesday on the revised cotton tariff schedule as framed in a bill by the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee. Democratic leader Underwood, chairman of the committee, stated today that the new schedule was about completed. The caucus consideration is expected to be perfunctory, and the bill will be introduced in the House Wednesday or Thursday. Mr. Underwood said he believed the four or five days' debate will suffice and that the bill will be passed and ready for the Senate by August 2nd.

The bill has been drawn as a revenue measure, the duties having been cut from 30 to 50 per cent, and assessed at valorem instead of in specific or compound form.

TRUST AIDED IN ELCECTION.
Sugar Trust Contributed $10,000 to Harrison in Campaign.

New York, July 21.—The American Sugar Refining Company contributed $10,000 to help Benjamin Harrison in one of his campaigns for the Presidency against Grover Cleveland. The contribution was told of today by John E. Parsons, former attorney for the company in his testimony before the Congressional Committee which is investigating the affairs of the so-called trust. He could not remember whether it was the first or second Harrison campaign.

Mr. Parsons frankly boasted that he was "the pioneer in the formation of the American trust and was proud of it, but scouted the idea that the sugar trust constituted a monopoly such as the Standard Oil or American Tobacco Companies."

WASHINGTON STORM STRUCK.
Aero Wrecked and Auto Blown into Potomac River.

Washington, July 21.—An automobile was blown into the Potomac river and Harry N. Atwood's aeroplane was wrecked by the wind during a severe wind, rain and hail storm which swept the city tonight. The aeroplane was in Potomac Park where it has rested since Atwood's record breaking flight from New York here. A party of automobilists motored to the park just before the storm broke to see the aeroplane. The wind threw the aeroplane against a hand stand, totally demolishing it, turned the automobile over and whirled it into the river. No one was hurt.

The storm played havoc with trees and shubbery throughout the city. In severe parks and thoroughfares many large trees were uprooted.

SITUATION IN PERSIA.

Intrigues of Deposed Shah Has Been Firmly Ignored.

Teheran, Persia, July 21.—The Persian government today sent a note to the British and Russian legations, pointing out that the various representations made on the subject of the intrigues of the deposed Shah Mohammed Ali Mirza, had been firmly ignored, and alleging that the indifference of the British and Russian representatives had produced the natural effect in Mohammed Ali's landing in Persia.

The note adds that the Persian government regrets that it had not received the assistance from Great Britain and Russia which it had the right to expect in virtue of the protocol of August 25, 1909.

The situation is of the gravest nature. The government in spite of its first show of energy is disposed to temporize, and nothing yet has been done in the way of equipping an expedition to proceed against the ex-Shah and the revolutionaries, who are active in Kurdistan. Two thousand Bakhtiari have been summoned to Teheran, but the war minister says that the force cannot be set in motion for ten days.

FRENCH OFFICER ATTACKED.

And Forced to Dismount by Force of Spanish Cavalry.

Tangier, Morocco, July 21.—A dispatch from Alcazar says that the French Lieutenant Thieriet, instructor of the Moorish troops, camped at Rounah, while riding to Alcazar was stopped by a Spanish picket. The soldiers tried to force the French officer to dismount, but Thieriet refused. A patrol of cavalry with drawn swords and a detachment of infantry with fixed bayonets rushed up and surrounded the officer.

They beat him with the flats of their sabres, according to the dispatch and pointed their rifles at him, and thus dragged him to the Spanish camp. Thieriet was detained an hour and after being questioned by Colonel Sylvestre was released.

Further details of the incident show that the trouble arose through Thieriet stopping some Moorish deserters and trying to obtain their names. The Spanish soldiers came up and intervened. Thieriet was ordered by the arrival of a Spanish officer, who was literally forced to drag off his men. It was at Thieriet's demand that he was conducted to the Spanish camp.

CENTER OF COTTON AREA.

Located in Carroll County, Mississippi, by Census Bureau.

Washington, July 21.—The center of production of the cotton growing area of the United States in 1910 was located three miles south of Vaiden, Carroll county, Miss., according to the Census Bureau's statistics just issued. This cotton producing area is about 1,500 miles long and 500 miles wide. The total area of the counties in which cotton was ginned in 1910, is approximately 625,000 square miles, or about 400,000,000 acres. Of this, only about one acre in every 13 was devoted to cotton.

The center of production has been in Mississippi all years for which records have been made. In 1859 it was approximately 13 miles southeast of Macon, Miss., in 1879, 11 miles southeast of Columbus, in 1899 13 miles southeast of Lexington; in 1906, five miles northeast of Mayorsville, and in 1908, four miles west of Lexington.

WICKERSHAM TO BE HEARD.

Namesake From Alaska Says He Refused to Investigate.

Washington, July 21.—Attorney General Wickersham will be given a hearing next Monday before the House Committee on Judiciary relative to charges preferred against him by Delegate Wickersham, of Alaska, that the Attorney General had refused to investigate the alleged "grab" of waterfront sites on Controller Bay, Alaska, after proof had been lodged with him. The hearing was decided upon today by the committee. Attorney General had expressed a desire to appear before it.

The Attorney General recently declared the whole matter had been investigated and had not been "outlawed" as had been alleged by the Alaska delegate. "This is now the phase of the matter under investigation, but just what it is, the Attorney General has refused to divulge."

AMERICAN GIRLS CAN'T POSE.

So World Knows Not of Their Beauty, Says German.

Chicago, July 20.—"American women do not know how to pose for a photograph. That is the reason the world does not know that they are the most beautiful of all women."

This expert opinion was given today by Rudolph Durrkoop, of Berlin, Germany, who is spending several days in Chicago on his way to St. Paul, to attend the annual convention of the American Photographers' Association.

"I have one main mission in coming to this country," he said, "and that is to show the American women that they have not the slightest idea of how to pose for a photograph. If they learned this art, the world would stand a better chance of knowing their wonderful beauty."

ARREST FORMER BANK HEAD.

New York, July 20.—David S. Mills, until recently president of the Audubon National Bank, a small upper Broadway institution, was arrested tonight by Federal warrant charging misapplication of $49,000 of the bank's funds. He furnished $25,000 bail for his appearance before the Federal grand jury.

The arrest followed an investigation begun yesterday by District Attorney Wicks, and the action of the grand jury in voting to have the bank voluntarily liquidated its business because of alleged manipulation of funds by Mills.

WASHINGTON STORM STRUCK.

Aero Wrecked and Auto Blown into Potomac River.

Washington, July 21.—An automobile was blown into the Potomac river and Harry N. Atwood's aeroplane was wrecked by the wind during a severe wind, rain and hail storm which swept the city tonight. The aeroplane was in Potomac Park where it has rested since Atwood's record breaking flight from New York here. A party of automobilists motored to the park just before the storm broke to see the aeroplane. The wind threw the aeroplane against a hand stand, totally demolishing it, turned the automobile over and whirled it into the river. No one was hurt.

The storm played havoc with trees and shubbery throughout the city. In severe parks and thoroughfares many large trees were uprooted.

$20,000 FOR BEING POLITE.

Georgian Beneficiary of Man With Whom He Exchanged Berths.

Atlanta, Ga., July 20.—A courteous act on the part of William R. O'Neal, of Bainbridge, Ga., has been rewarded by a fortune. When O'Neal exchanged a lower berth for an upper sleeping car berth with J. T. Young, of Oakland, Cal., four years ago, when the two men were en route to Florida, where Mr. Young was going for his health, he thought little of the incident.

Evidently Mr. Young considered it a great favor, for in his will he left $20,000 to the Georgian, who is 26 years of age.

O'Neal was in Atlanta yesterday and was informed of his good fortune by a son of Mr. Young, who had come to look for him.
